The Apple vs Epic Games trial, which took place in May and whose verdict is expected later this year, could wind up being just the first of many similar clashes. The court battle started last year, when Apple removed Epic's Fortnite from its App Store after the developer had engineered a system to prevent Apple from taking a 30 per cent commission on Fortnite sales to iPhone users. Epic's defence was couched in the language of worry about how Apple's behaviour could affect and shape an emerging Metaverse.

It also turns out that developing your own game on Roblox is another sure way of getting your hands on some free Robux.

To redeem these codes, players should go to the Roblox website, and from there click on the Code Redemption Page. The page is simple, it should say 'Redeem Roblox Promotions' along with a short explanation body of text, with a space to redeem codes on the right-hand side.

We cannot share the images because Activision is issuing copyright takedown notices to anyone directly hosting them. If you're curious about the cover art, this is still currently available via Reddit and Imgur. This artwork doesn't confirm much, other than the World War 2 setting. It's also very clear from these images that there will be, as expected, several editions of the game, including cross-gen bundles.

Roblox is also working on content ratings for games, though hasn't said when the ratings system might become available.
